

East Midvale Elementary School

A Community School

Our Community

At East Midvale Elementary, United Way of Salt Lake partners with the city of Midvale, and many other partners, to serve a diverse community of 600 students and their families. Nearly 75 percent of the Title I school's students qualify for free or reduced priced lunch, and 20 percent are English Language learners; as many as 13 different languages can be heard on any given day. Preschool, all-day kindergarten, and adult literacy, computing and parenting classes are among the enhanced programs that the community school provides.

Our Promise

East Midvale's promise is to create a community of learners by providing quality research-based instruction to every student. Our Canyons District mission is to put students on the path to college, careers, and successful citizenship. The diversity within our school creates a greater sense of community and enhances the education that our students receive.

Our Progress

School surveys suggest the community schools model is making a difference. A growing share of parents say learning problems are quickly identified at school and students are able to access needed supports. Over two school years, from 2012-13 to 2014-15, absences have dropped 14 percent and office discipline referrals have fallen 35 percent.

Community Schools

A NEW WAY OF TACKLING OLD PROBLEMS

Community schools provide opportunities for children, families, and communities. Partners integrate education, health, basic needs, tutoring, afterschool programs, and more to ensure kids are on track to succeed in school.
