

UTAH'S COLLEGE ACCESS ADVISING PROGRAM

Too many Utah high school students are not going on to college, whether that be a technical college, community college, or university. Many students don't know what options are available to them, or simply don't know where to start. In fact, one out of three high school students does not enroll in postsecondary education within five years of graduating high school.

To better support Utah high school students on their path to college, to fix Utah's leaky talent pipeline, and to change the outcome for a generation of Utahns, it is proposed that the Utah College Advising Corps expand statewide to provide a college access advisor for every high school in Utah by 2021.

Program Objectives

The program places a recent college graduate full-time in the high school to help connect students to the right postsecondary educational opportunity. This includes providing support as students:

1. Register for and complete college entrance exams
2. Submit college applications
3. Apply for financial aid and scholarships
4. Connect with their receiving institution to ensure a smooth transition

"Over the past few months, I have been working with a very hesitant senior. After sitting down to explore colleges and majors that interest him, I was able to help him register for the December ACT.

His counselors have since noted improvements in his attitude and attendance.

He told me this is the most excited he has been in a long time.

I'm happy we were finally able to get through to him the importance of furthering his education."

—Mariah Jones, college access adviser @ Fremont High School, 2019

Statewide Expansion in Three Phases

The total cost to expand the college access advising program statewide is $7 million. The program will be expanded in three phases:

Phase I	2019: 34 high schools, $1 million
Phase II	2020: 90 high schools, $3 million
Phase III	2021: 150+ high schools, $3 million

Phase I is complete, and the program is operating in 34 high schools across Utah starting Fall 2019. Program goals for the 2019-2020 Phase I expansion are listed below. These goals are also disaggregated by high school.

Goal	% of senior class
1. One-on-one meeting with seniors	70%
2. Students who have taken the ACT	95%
3. FAFSA completion	45%
4. One or more college application	77%
5. Three+ college applications	26%
6. Family engagement	30%
7. FAFSA assistance	55%

Pending legislative funding, the college access advising program will expand into an additional 56 high schools across the state, for a total of 90 high schools in Fall 2020:
